NEW MOVIE COMPANY

SIERRA PHOTOPLAYS, INC., WILL GIVE EMPLOYMENT TO LOCAL PEOPLE

Under the head of local enterprises that will be a credit to Glendale, and one of the greatest publicity value, is the Sierra Photoplays, Inc., that is being fathered by Dr. C. Wm. Bachmann of this city.

While it will bring many high class artists to this beautiful city to make their homes here, it will also give employment to many local people, but of especial interest to local parents and to club women and Child Welfare associations all over the country is the special department of child picture production which this company will inaugurate.

They have secured the services of a lady director of child photoplays whose success as a producer of artistic child pictures is world wide. She produces pictures of children, by children for children, and, as no other producer has yet done, from the understanding viewpoint of the child.

These stories are little home interest tales that carry an educational value, a story that teaches while it entertains, not dry or pedantic, but leaves something of value in the little mind, while pleasing the sensation with a sweet little story that holds and entertains, not alone the little one but the older ones that can still see with the heart of a child.

The little company of child actors will have their own school house in the studio grounds and a graded school teacher who will look after their school needs four hours each day, so that while earning good salaries as little actors they are not neglecting their school education.

The club women and child welfare associations are taking up the subject of pictures for children the world over. The Sierra Photoplay children pictures is the answer. The first pictures they will make will be a series of fairy plays, depicting folklore of all nations in complete costume and appropriate native settings. The little child characters will be whisked away in a chariot and four, over the clouds to a far, distant country and there among various adventures see how little natives of the far countries live, act and have their being. Startling child adventures and historic incidents make up the stories that educate and entertain.

Child theaters and child matinees are being opened all over the land to cater to the growing mind, with something sweet, entertaining and useful. That this has not been done heretofore is because these pictures were unobtainable. The Sierra Photoplays will try to help supply this crying need. Dr. Bachmann and associates in placing this enterprise before the people of Glendale, ask the co-operation of the people of his home town, including the club women and Parent-Teacher association. Any suggestions from them will at all times be appreciated. Also those who are able to do so, are requested to subscribe to some of the stock of the industry, as it is essentially a California industry, and an exceptionally good paying investment.

Dr. Bachmann, who is the author of "Under the Bear Flag," and "The Society Pilot," two well-known stage dramas, has had years of successful experience in the field of entertaining, both as a dramatic author and producer, is at the head of the enterprise, which should be a guarantee of its success, both artistic and financial. He can be seen any day at the studio, 303 W. Ninth street, Glendale, where he would be pleased to meet any one interested.

TRAMP TO MT. WILSON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grosvenor 1432 Burchett street, made an interesting journey to Mt. Wilson, at the week end. Taking the car to Sierra Madre, they and Steve Beebe, equipped with a complete camping outfit, started on the ascent of the mountain by way of Hoegge's camp and Sturtevant camp. They went to the summit of the mountain and visited the observatories. They visited Strain's camp at the summit and returned by the steep trail that passes Orchard camp. They found the summit and the adjacent canyons, immense forests and innumerable waterfalls intensely interesting.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO MEET

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Congregational church will meet at the church Thursday, for their regular monthly all-day meeting. Lunch will be served at noon. All ladies interested are invited to attend. Please bring your thimble.

HIGH SCHOOL AT WORK

ENROLLMENT THIS YEAR EXCEEDS THAT OF LAST YEAR BY 100

Enrollment at the High School went on diligently Monday and Tuesday and time was largely taken up with arranging the programs. The enrollment up to Monday night was 530. Last year at this time it was 430. One of the features of the enrollment was that the country districts contributed largely to its present increase. La Canada contributes 12 to the number; La Crescenta, 22; Littlelands (Tujunga) and Sunland, 23. This is all the more to the credit of the High School as these places have the option of going to the High schools of Pasadena, Burbank or San Fernando.

There are several changes in the teaching staff which are worth noting: Mr. C. D. Moore, who for years was vice-principal of Aberdeen, North Dakota, Normal school, has been appointed professor of chemistry to fill the position vacant by the death of Prof. Taylor.

J. N. Clarke has been appointed teacher of mathematics in the Third Street school, in place of Mr. Morris, who has been granted leave of absence, having a teaching fellowship in the University of California.

Miss Flood, who has been Latin teacher in the High School, has been granted leave of absence, to study at the University of Columbia.

Miss Darsie, formerly teacher of German, has been granted leave of absence to study at the University of Columbia.

Miss Eggert, who has been appointed to the position of German teacher in place of Miss Darsie, is a graduate of the University of California, and has a reputation for excellent work all round the Bay region.

Mrs. Daisy Wilson, who has been appointed to the position of teacher of Latin-English in place of Miss Flood, comes from Covina and has been very successful in her personal work with students.

Elmer C. Richardson, a new instructor in the Manual Arts department, has had a wide experience as a mechanical engineer and is an excellent draftsman. He is particularly skilled in automobile instruction, which is a subject that is in high favor with the boys at present. Mr. Richardson is a recent graduate of the State Normal.

Mr. Sawyer is an additional teacher in the Commercial department. He is a teacher of wide experience. He has been out of teaching for a time and in the actual business world from which he brings to his chosen field the latest methods.

The enrollment in the Commercial department was unusually heavy this year, which necessitated the addition to the staff. Spanish and Latin also show heavy enrollments. The whole condition of the school on the second day of its new season is highly gratifying to all who are concerned with the welfare of education in Glendale.

ENTERTAIN CHURCH OFFICIALS

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford entertained Tuesday evening at their beautiful home, 231 Orange street, at a four-course dinner, twenty-two men, who are officers and committee men of the First Congregational church. The tables were elaborately decorated in pink. Cecil Bruner roses formed the centerpieces and were used as boutonnières.

Mrs. Willisford was assisted throughout the evening by Miss Carol Willisford and Miss Elsie Tyler. The Rev. E. H. Willisford presented plans pertaining to the future work of the church. A social time followed and the singing of popular songs was much enjoyed.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. John Robert White, 101 S. Orange street, will entertain the Glendale W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon, Sept. 15. Meeting opens at 2 o'clock. Dr. Jessie Russell will give an address on the bills to come before State Legislature pertaining to women and children. All women interested in such legislation are cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH MISSIONARY MEETING

The last meeting of the missionary year will be held by the Glendale Auxiliary of the Christian church on Thursday, Sept. 14, at 2 o'clock. Complete reports of the year's work will be given as well as a fine program. All pledges and dues should be paid up for the year at this meeting. Let there be a banner attendance. Program in charge of Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Musser.

ITALIANS JOIN ALLIES IN BALKANS

VICTOR-EMMANUEL SENDS STRONG CONTINGENT TO AID IN DRIVE AGAINST THE BULGARIANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Sept. 13.—Victor-Emmanuel's soldiers swarmed to the attack against the Bulgar-German-Austrian forces across the Struma river today. The Italians made a fine showing. They are excellently equipped and well supported by artillery provided with abundance of ammunition.

FRENCH DASH ON TEUTONS SUCCESSFUL

CAPTURE OF BOUCHAEVNES AND GERMAN TRENCHES SOUTH OF COMBLES THREATENS PERONNE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Sept. 13.—Gen. Foch gave command to his men to advance in the direction of Peronne this morning. The first dash of the troops snatched in half-an-hour, from the Germans, the whole of the first-line trenches in the region south of the Somme. They afterward captured the village of Bouchaevnes and are now in a position that seriously threatens Peronne, which is their objective. The French captured 2000 Germans in this dash.

TO REORGANIZE BRITISH CABINET

ASQUITH AND LLOYD-GEORGE FAVOR STRENGTHENING MINISTRY WITH PRO-ALLY MEMBERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 13.—There is every appearance that the cabinet will shortly be remodeled on a pro-Ally basis. It is necessary, in the opinion of Premier Asquith and Lloyd-George that members should be added to the cabinet who are thoroughly in touch with the solidarity now prevailing among the Allied Powers so that all measures taken may work toward the one end. Lloyd-George's recent visit to the French front at Verdun showed how much the British leaders rely on complete unity of purpose between the different countries in the Alliance.

HUNT'S NOMINATION CONCEDED IN ARIZONA

GOVERNOR WILL BE RENOMINATED BY LARGE MAJORITY OVER HIS OPPONENT OLNEY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 13.—It is conceded on all hands that Governor Hunt will be renominated over Olney by a large majority. The supporters of Olney, who held out for a long time, now acknowledge that their man is defeated. The missing returns cannot alter the situation. Hunt was largely supported by the labor union and socialistic element of the state.

KAISER PLANS GRAND ATTACK ON ALLIES

GERMAN POSITION IN SOMME REGION SO PRECARIOUS ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE TO BETTER IT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—Recent gains made by the British and French have convinced the kaiser that something must be done to relieve the pressure on the German forces in the Somme region. Troops are being massed up behind the present lines and more guns and ammunition have been brought to the field depots and it is believed that a desperate effort will be made to regain the position at Ginchy now in the hands of the British and also to recapture the positions taken by the French.

RAILROAD EARNINGS SHOW VAST INCREASE

OFFICIAL REPORTS SHOW THAT ROADS GAINED 26 PER CENT IN THEIR RETURNS LAST YEAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 13.—Official reports of the railroads of the country show that their earnings during the year just closed had increased 26 per cent.

GIGANTIC REVIEW PLANNED FOR BORDER

ALL AMERICAN TROOPS ON MEXICAN FRONTIER TO BE ASSEMBLED FOR MANEUVERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Sept. 13.—Plans have been completed for a gigantic review of all the troops now assembled on the Mexican border. This will be the largest gathering of United States troops that has been witnessed for many years. It may also prove serviceable to have all the troops in one quarter when the final negotiations at New London have come to a close.

WHO GOT SALOON VOTE?

PACKER RECEIVED HIS SUPPORT IN OUTLYING DRY TERRITORY

Many readers of the News will recall the attempts of certain candidates for Supervisor and their supporters to connect Mr. Stephen C. Packer with the saloon, liquor and brewery interests during the recent primary campaign.

All the breweries, liquor houses and saloons in the 5th Supervisorial district are in the City of Los Angeles, and are within the boundary lines of precincts 50 to 65 inclusive. Here is the official vote in the wet zone:

John T. Wilson.....	490
Jonathan S. Dodge.....	294
W. A. Roberts.....	228
Stephen C. Packer.....	167
E. H. Owen.....	55

The Maier brewing plant is in Los Angeles city precinct No. 54. The vote in this precinct was:

John T. Wilson.....	32
Jonathan S. Dodge.....	12
W. A. Roberts.....	4
E. H. Owen.....	3
Stephen C. Packer.....	1

These figures present a convincing yet pleasing fact, that Glendale's two candidates were so far below those candidates who "did not want the whisky vote" but apparently got it.

EXECUTIVE BOARD TO MEET

The Executive Board of the Glendale Garden society will meet at the residence of the president, Mrs. Nanno Woods, 1222 Milford street, on Monday evening next, Sept. 18, when important business will be transacted. Among other items the report of the Birdhouse committee will be considered, and plans adopted on a large scale to encourage school children in the building of birdhouses. Several cities back east, notably St. Paul, Minnesota, have attracted world-wide attention through their exhibit of birdhouses made by the young people. So far as is known, Glendale will be the first city on the Pacific Coast to inaugurate the movement. Let Glendale lead in lots of enterprises, backed by loyal adherents, and carried to successful issues.

GLENDALE VOLUNTEERS

The Glendale company of Volunteers, at the last drill, was met with a proposition to volunteer for service as a Coast Defense Artillery company. Seventy-two names were obtained. This was an excellent record and further news concerning the formation of the regiment is expected. The officers of the proposed regiment are now in Sacramento in touch with the adjutant-general and the arrangements for organization and equipment are expected at any moment. Drill will be held in the hall at First and Glendale tonight at 8 o'clock as usual. A full muster is asked.

ADVERTISING GLENDALE

Mrs. Nanno Woods, the enterprising president of the Glendale Garden society, has effected a very useful piece of advertising for Glendale, by getting an article on Glendale gardens into the widely circulated horticultural magazine, "Suburban California." This article takes the lead in the section "In the Atmosphere of Organized Horticulture." It tells of the beauty of Glendale, of its peaceful and prosperous homes, its lawns and its trim backyards. It speaks intimately of love and care bestowed on the gardens.

The article brings a pleasing picture of Glendale before the eye of the public and is a valuable piece of publicity for the city.

NEW GROCERY TO OPEN

Mrs. Emma L. Schmidt, late of Long Beach, purchased the bakery and confectionery store formerly known as Russell's Branch Bakery and the Robinhood Tea Room the first of this week and will add a complete line of groceries in addition to the line of confectionery and bakery goods. The store is located at 1210 West Fifth and the grocery department will open Friday of this week. Mrs. Schmidt is a business woman of experience, having been engaged in the grocery business at Long Beach for the past thirteen years.

JUNIOR A OF C. E. SOCIETY

The Junior A class of the Society of Christian Endeavor of the First Congregational church will meet Thursday evening, Sept. 14, at 7 p. m., with Isabel Spear, 1434 Vine street. After the regular business has been finished a social hour will be enjoyed.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

SECONDHAND BOOK DEPARTMENT NEW FEATURE—GLEE CLUB ORGANIZES

The principal work at Glendale High School on Monday consisted in making out programs of study. Mr. Moyse first explained to the freshmen the workings of the school, and then the classes adjourned to separate rooms to work out their troubles. A feature of the assembly was the yells led by Berna Martin.

Yesterday the regular routine was gone through and real work drew closer as the first lessons were assigned. Students are already becoming chummy with the text books which they are to escort about for the next nine months. The rush for lockers took up two full days, due to the increased number of students this year. Despite the fact that the faculty has been enlarged every department promises to be taxed to its utmost. The large enrollment this year is an excellent index to Glendale's growth.

Several former students are taking post graduate courses this year, and others are expected to join later. With the recent addition of vocational departments have come many new students who would not otherwise attend High school. This also brings back students who have not been able to fit all the desired courses into their four years. Others return to take up subjects required for college entrance. Those taking post graduate work this year are: Willard Learned, Clara Armstrong, Eva Gould, Gladys Sherwood and Irene Lancaster.

An innovation this year is the second-hand book department run by the school. Formerly students have found it very awkward to dispose of second-hand books, and a great amount of waste was the result. Now this commendable department under the able direction of Mr. Joy, and operated by his young staff of business men and women, is not only saving much of this waste for students who have second-hand books, but is also saving money for book buyers.

Among last year's students who will not be with us this year are Marguerite Cloud, who will attend at Hollywood, and Pearl Hunsburger, whose family moves to Arizona soon.

The many friends of Robert Carmack were glad to see him back to school, and we are assured that he will be very lively in a short time.

To date those signed up for Glee club are Ted Hopping, second bass, of La Crescenta; and Ed Seay, soprano, of Casa Verdugo. Florence Heacock will be accompanist.

—JOHNNY.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

An unusually delightful treat has been arranged for members and friends of the Bird and Flower club next Saturday. Gathering at 2 o'clock sharp at headquarters, 1111 Broadway, a trip to Verdugo Park will be taken, leaving on the 2:15 car. Miss Emma-Lindsay Squire, from Indiana, a very charming young lady, resembling in appearance the beloved Mary Pickford, has kindly consented to give an informal talk on "My Bird Pets." Miss Squire has had some exquisite experiences with birds; once she raised 9 baby sparrows to maturity; once she went through Kentucky with a robin redbreast as travelling companion; and once she saved a sparrow at a railway station from a boy who was going to give it to a cat,—she paid the boy 25 cents to let her have the birdie which she named Laddie. And the funny story she tells about Laddie would make anybody just die laughing. All grown-ups as well as children are invited to join this trip. It costs nothing but the car fare. All lovers of nature, all residents and visitors, strangers wishful to meet congenial people or to discover some of the beauty spots in and near Glendale, are all cordially welcomed.

DEATH OF MRS. ELIZABETH PECK

Mrs. Ellen Elizabeth Peck passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Patterson, 1115 Maple avenue, Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the age of 61 years. She had been in poor health for a number of years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Charles N. Peck, her daughter, Mrs. Patterson, and three sons—Edward Peck of Los Angeles, Charles Peck of Riverside and Clarence Peck of Fullerton. Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. George Eley, Thursday at 2 p. m., at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company. Interment will be at Forest Lawn.

OVERCOMING THE BLACKLIST

There is no doubt that the British, French, Russian and Italian blacklists have deeply angered a number of prominent firms in the United States, but there seems to be no need for American business men to worry themselves about these and other economic and industrial measures that have been instituted by the overseas nations. Investigations in Britain, France, Switzerland and Italy show that conditions are not nearly so antagonistic to American business interests as has been represented.

A recent traveler and investigator in those countries, Clarence Moomaw, investigator for the United States Department of Agriculture, who is on the eve of visiting Russia, Scandinavia and Spain, to make similar inquiries, has made plans to protect America's future commercial relations with Europe. He is especially interested in the exportation of American grains.

It is likely that the department will establish special agencies in the principal European countries, after the war, to see that American interests are properly preserved and carefully fostered and protected. Plans are being made to overcome Britain's discriminatory freight rates in favor of herself and her Allies and to the disadvantage of enemy and neutral nations.

It is said that now because all grain must be shipped in neutral bottoms, wheat bought at one price in the United States is sold to Britain and her allies by British carriers at five times less than it is sold in Switzerland and other neutral countries.

Attempts are being made to establish direct trade relations between the United States and Italy. As it now is Italy must buy all her cotton through Liverpool agents, thus permitting the British to control the Italian-American trade. The secret of how America is to overcome these difficulties, at least in part, is the investment of American capital in European countries and the establishment of American banking facilities.

The national City Bank of New York already has taken steps in this direction in Milan and Genoa. America is the only country that Italy does not fear politically. Before the war Germany was a big factor in Italy's commercial life. The Italians say such conditions will never recur. The bad feelings engendered by the war will not pass away for a long time. German aeroplanes have assisted Austrian planes to destroy some of the finest works of art in Italy. German submarines have sunk Italian liners and these things are not forgotten in a moment.

Just at present Italy may be said to have no foster father or mother. The Italians, it is true, are deeply indebted to the British, for money lent them and given them as part price for their desertion of the dreibund; but it is possible that Italian commerce could be detached and brought over to the United States by sensible and timely financial and mercantile measures. It is going to be a hard scramble for all nations after the war and not the least formidable scramble in the heap will be Britain. The United States is doing wisely to prepare.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

Two important events took place during the past few days that should go far to alter the aspect of the war in Europe. On the western front the British have captured Ginchy after strenuous fighting. The kaiser not only sent his finest regiments, the Bavarians, against the British, but he even ordered the men sent to the assault to be picked. The best and most powerful men were hurled forward against "Kitcheners' clerks." The clerks not only held firm, but they also hurled back the flower of the German army, capturing and consolidating the position at Ginchy, which dominates the important railway center of Comblès.

That the kaiser will not rest content with this decision goes without saying. There will be other assaults. Meantime the French have been slowly creeping up to Peronne, another important center in the German third line. The moment these two points have fallen to the British and French there will be a significant alteration in the German line. The Germans are fortifying other lines behind, compelling thousands of Russian prisoners to serve as ditch diggers, contrary to the usage of war. But this war has broken all principles. There will be more fighting before the final break and it is reasonably certain that one whole year's fighting is before the contestants before the world can hope to see the end of the war.

On the eastern side of the extended area of warfare the British, French and Servians made a sudden move across the Struma river and drove the Bulgarians back, crumpling up and rolling over their flanks. The Bulgarians are brave fighters and led and drilled by Germans they are doubly formidable. The advance is being made in something like full force and if successful should immediately compel the Teuto-Bulgar force that is aiming at Bucharest to give up that objective and to come to the assistance of the threatened main force.

Two or three times throughout the war the Germans have endeavored to draw off the main forces of the Allies from their objective by such side affairs as the present incursion into Roumania, but they have not succeeded. The main attack is now being pressed and the outcome should not be far off. The Bulgarians are credited with putting up a very strong resistance and they are doubtless doing so as their very national strength and position in Europe depends on the outcome of the war.

Thus there are two great offensives going on—west and east. By and by the world will hear more of the Russian attacks on Halicz where a very strong Teuton force is endeavoring to screen Lemberg from the advance of the Russian army.

By and by it is likely that Greece will jump into the war on the side of the Allies. The king of Greece is playing a very deep game for an intimate relative of the German kaiser. Constantine is married to the kaiser's sister and has, under her influence hitherto kept that country out of war. Now the people are eager to get into the fighting and Constantine seems for the time to agree

TROPICO TRUSTEES MEETING

The board of trustees of the city of Tropico met in regular session in the city hall Tuesday evening at 7:30, with Trustees Alsapach, Boyce, Henry, Peters and Seal present; also City Engineer Wattles, City Health Officer Mabry, Street Superintendent Wasson and City Marshal Gould.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A communication was received from the secretary of the State Board of Health, stating that the health officers of the State would hold a meeting at Visalia the week beginning Oct. 9 and as several important questions would come up for consideration it was important that every municipality in the State send their health officer to this meeting and requested that Tropico appropriate funds to send their health officer to this meeting. The communication was ordered placed on file.

The matter of employing a man to audit the city's books and to determine whether or not the city was getting all the taxes that was collected came up for discussion and Mr. Hamlin of Los Angeles was present representing the Hamlin Auditing company and addressed the board in regard to the proposed work. He seemed to think that the city of Tropico had at least $1000 in the general county fund that rightfully belongs to the City of Tropico. After some discussion the matter was laid over until another meeting.

The city attorney reported that he had written the Railroad Commission in regard to the water pressure in Tropico but as yet had no reply.

The city engineer reported that his attention had been called to a break in the curbing recently erected on Moore avenue. He stated that it was his opinion that the break was not the fault of the construction but evidently had been done by a sledge or some heavy instrument. The board ordered the city marshal to investigate the matter and if possible apprehend the culprit.

The city clerk reported that she had written the Los Angeles Light & Power Co. in regard to furnishing lights for the city, but as yet had received no reply.

Mr. Clemens of the Los Angeles Light & Power Co. was present and stated that it would be a physical impossibility for them to be able to furnish the city with lights before next fall and suggested that the board make a short term contract for the Brand boulevard system to expire at the same time that the contract for the goose neck system expires, and by that time they would be in position to bid on the contract for the entire city. The matter was postponed indefinitely.

Trustee Peters reported that he had been unable to see Mr. Young in regard to the Columbus avenue opening but stated that he had an appointment with Mr. Young for Wednesday of this week, and would report at next meeting.

At the request of building inspector Fairchild, Mr. C. J. Jennings was appointed assistant building inspector, salary to be paid by Mr. Fairchild.

Trustee Seal offered a proposition in writing in which he moved that the board send to each voter in the city a postal card with a return card attached asking the residents whether or not it would be good policy for the board to order the fire hydrants disconnected and refuse to pay the water rate fixed by the Railroad commission. The proposition failed for want of a second.

The following claims were allowed an ordered paid:

with them. Formerly he gave it as his opinion that the Allies could not win. Now he seems to have changed his mind. It is well, however to accept with caution stories coming out of Greece. What the Apostle Paul said of the Cretans, is true of a great many modern Greeks.

WHEN WASHINGTON WENT FISHING

For those of us who love fishing, it is pleasant to know that the Father of His Country also enjoyed holding a line over the side of a boat, and that he sometimes had mishaps much like those that befall more ordinary people. The following anecdote is authenticated by the letter referred to, which is still treasured in the family of Col. Samuel Cogswell, of Washington's staff.

The colonel wrote to his wife from Portsmouth, N. H., under date of November 5, 1789, describing a voyage made around the harbor by the first President and a party of twelve men in a government red, white and blue barge. The visitors were out to see the new government navy yard, and, after the inspection had been completed, decided to try their hand at halibut fishing.

Luck was bad at first, but before long Washington's line got a jerk that almost upset him. The President gave a quick tug, but the hook flew up empty, having caught on the rocks. "It let go so sudden," wrote Colonel Cogswell, "that General Washington was precipitated down squarely on the bait pipkin (pail) that held clams. He also got hit on a corner of Squire Langdon's hat, which resulted, by the time we landed, in a black eye.

"His Excellency rose again with characteristic grace and dignity, veiling both disappointment and discomfort in smiles. For this mean trick, the gods compensated their mortal favorite by granting him a lusty codfish—the first and best catch of the excursion—just a moment after his clammy downfall."—Wellspring.

A VALUABLE ASSET

The growing love of wild birds among the people of the United States is commented on in the last annual report of the Government Biological Survey. Everywhere efforts are being made to increase the number of birds, and attract them to the vicinity of homes.

This movement is said to be partly due to a native love of the beauty and songs of birds, but also, to some extent, to a growing appreciation of their usefulness as insect destroyers. The report declares that the increase of interest in wild birds throughout the United States during the last decade has been phenomenal, and organizations having for their chief object the care and protection of birds, are numbered by hundreds if not thousands. —Young People's Weekly.

Among the arrivals was the supply boat Colorado. A submarine also made its appearance. A visit was made to Tia Juana, where, says Mr. Sanford, the Mexicans are more anxious to make money out of the American tourist than to fight. They have an exposition of their own down there.

FEARED AMERICAN COMPETITION

S. S. Elliott of the Glendale Pharmacy says that the war has benefited the drug manufacturing business to the extent of stirring up Americans to go into the manufacture of certain pharmaceutical preparations in this country. All the bromides for which the United States depended largely on Germany were immediately sent up enormously in price after the war began. The original price was somewhere about $1.20 a pound, but it advanced to $5.80 ultimately.

This led to the establishment of American manufactories, where the preparations can be and are being manufactured. After having advanced the price and kept it at the exorbitant figure named the manufacturers of the other dropped it to $1.87. This was because they feared the result of American manufacture of drugs. The work of establishing the manufacturing business in this country, however, goes on steadily and the government is now taking a profound interest in the production of various drugs from the giant kelp of the coast at San Pedro and other Pacific points.

Lemon juice is good for discoloration of the hands, when caused by fruit juices, paint or anything else that refuses to yield to soap. A good plan is to cut a lemon in two and rub a part directly on the stained part.

To remove sunburn the washing of the face in warm water in which a lemon has been squeezed and a pinch of borax dissolved will prove effective. A paste of bicarbonate of soda spread over the painful parts is also good for sunburn.

SEVEN WAYS OF GIVING

The careless way: To give something to every cause that is presented, without inquiring into its merits.

The impulsive giving: To give from impulse—as much and as often as love and pity and sensibility prompt.

The lazy way: To make a special offer to earn money for benevolent objects by fairs, festivals, etc.

The self-denying way: To save the cost of luxuries and apply them to purposes of religion and charity. This may lead to asceticism and self-complacency.

The systematic way: To lay aside as an offering to God a definite portion of our gains—one-tenth, one-fifth, one-third, or one-half. This is adapted to all, whether poor or rich, and gifts would be largely increased if it were generally practiced.

The equal way: To give to God and the needy just as much as we spend on ourselves, balancing our personal expenditures by our gifts.

The heroic way: To limit our own expenditures to a certain sum, and giving away all the rest of our income.—Dr. Pierson, in Homiletic Review.

Never put off till tomorrow What you can do today; That's what the old-time proverb, And old-time people say; But I say put off till tomorrow Your worry and fret and gloom, Keep steady and sweet all day today, For tomorrow has never yet come. —A Twentieth Century Proverb.

Our brains should be alert and disciplined till thought is a gratification. Our hearts, too, should be alive, tender, responsive. The people who are only partly alive are bound to fail in some important duty, and to miss some of the best of life's pleasures. Be alive all over.

THINK WELL OF YOURSELF

One of the essentials to success is a good opinion of one's self. That does not mean the foolish conceit that sees all one has and is through magnifying glasses, but the attitude of expecting from one's self something really worth while.

Seen in their true relations, there is no experience in life over which we have a right to worry.—Anna Robertson Brown.

DO THE HARD THINGS FIRST

Suspended above the desk of a Pittsburgh bank president is this motto: "Do the Hard Thing First." Ten years ago he was discount clerk in this same bank.

"How did you climb so fast?" I asked.

"I lived up to that text," he replied.

"Tell me about it."

"There is not much to tell. I had long been conscious that I was not getting on as fast as I should. I was not keeping up with my work; it was distasteful to me. When I opened my desk in the morning and found it covered with reminders of work to be done during the day, I became discouraged. There were always plenty of comparatively easy things to do; and these I did first, putting off the disagreeable duties as long as possible. Result: I became intellectually lazy. I felt an increasing incapacity for my work. One morning I woke up. I took stock of myself to find out the trouble. Memoranda of several matters that had long needed attention stared at me from my calendar. Suddenly the thought came to me: 'I have been doing only the easy things. By postponing the disagreeable tasks, the mean, annoying little things, my mental muscles have been allowed to grow flabby. They must get some exercise.' I took off my coat and proceeded to 'clean house.' It wasn't half as hard as I expected. Then I took a card and wrote on it, 'Do the Hard Thing First,' and put it where I could see it every morning. I've been doing the hard thing first ever since."—Brooklyn Central.

MY PRAYER

For the wondrous beauty of the morning light,
The moon and stars that light my way by night
For leaf and shrub bedecked with diamond dew
For flower-strewn paths my weary feet pursue
For song of birds, and laughter of the brooks,
For golden sunshine, and for shady nooks,
For green woods in which the soft wind broods,
For fellowship with nature in her various moods,
For these I thank Thee Lord, with love untold;
Naught else have I to give, nor scrip, nor gold.
My faults, my sins, I full confession make,
And free forgiveness ask for Thy Name's sake.
And, if my love of nature bring me close to Thee,
Where in Thy presence doubts and shadows flee,
Be this my prayer where'er my lot is cast,
That I may find sweet rest with Thee at last.
—William E. Hutchinson.

PLATINUM AND ALLIED METALS

The statement on Platinum and Allied Metals, issued annually by the Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, is now available for 1915. The production of crude platinum from California and Oregon during the year was 741.91 troy ounces, having a value of about $23,500.

ORIGIN OF "PETRIFIED FOREST"

The "Petrified Forest" of Arizona, really a series of petrified forests, lies a short distance south of Adamana, on the line of the Santa Fe Railway. There are four "forests," included in a Government reservation called "Petrified Forest National Monument," created by presidential proclamation in 1906. The name "forest" is not strictly appropriate, for the petrified tree trunks are all prostrate and are broken into sections. The logs are the remains of giant trees that grew in Triassic time, the age of reptiles. The trees were of several kinds, but most of them related to the Norfolk Island pine, now used for indoor decoration. Doubtless they grew in a near-by region and, after falling, drifted down a water-course and lodged in some eddy or a sand bank. Later they were buried by sand and clay, finally to a depth of several thousand feet. The conversion to stone was effected by gradual replacement of the woody material by silica in the form called chalcedony, deposited by underground water. A small amount of iron oxides deposited at the same time has given the brilliant and beautiful brown, yellow, and red tints which appear in much of the material.

Some of the tree trunks are 6 feet in diameter and more than 100 feet in length. In the first forest there is a fine trunk that forms a natural bridge over a small ravine, the water having first washed away the overlying clay and sand and then, following a crevice, worked out the channel underneath. The length of this log is 110 feet, and the diameter 4 feet at the butt and 1½ feet at the top.

The petrified woods are beautiful objects for study. When thin slices are carefully ground down to a thickness of 0.003 inch or less and placed under the microscope they show perfectly the original wood structure, all the cells being distinct, though now they are replaced by chalcedony. By studying the sections F. H. Knowlton, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, has found that most of these araucarian trees were of the species Araucarioxylon arizonicum, a tree now extinct. It is known to have lived at the same geologic time also in the east-central part of the United States, where the remains of some of its associates have also been found. These included other cone-bearing trees, tree ferns, cycads, and gigantic horsetails, which indicate that at that time, the rainfall was abundant.—U. S. Geological Survey.

BUILDING MATERIAL

The poet and his wife were examining the cuneiform inscription in the museum.

"Oh, dear," sighed the wife, "I wish we lived in the days when literary men used clay tablets instead of writing paper!"

"What makes you say that?" asked her husband.

"Why, don't you see, dearie, if all your rejected manuscripts were bricks what an elegant house we could build?"—Kansas City Journal.

Roman citizenship meant something to the ancient world. It meant that behind the humblest citizen stood the power of imperial Rome.

SEPTEMBER

For, though it be not May,
Sure, few delights of Spring excel
The beauty of this mild September day!

So with me walk,
And view the dreaming field and bosky Autumn wood,
And how in humble russet goes
The Spouse of Honor, Fair Repose.

Or to the Farm, where; high on trampled stacks,
The laborers stir themselves amain
To feed with hasty sheaves of grain
The deafening engine's boisterous maw.

And snatch again,
From to-and-fro tormenting racks,
The tossed and hustled straw;
Whilst others tend the shedded wheat

That fills your row of shuddering sacks,
Or shift them quick, and bind them neat, . . .

And, all the bags being fill'd and rank'd fivefold, they pour
The treasure on the barn's clean floor,

And take them back for more.
Until the whole bared harvest beau-teous lies
Under our pleased and prosperous eyes.

—Coventry Patmore.

LABOR PROBLEMS BEING SOLVED

Commissioner General of Immigration Caminetti, on his recent visit to Los Angeles states that during the two years since establishing the Federal Employment Bureau, more than 200,000 workers have been given jobs, and that much has been done to solve that great social problem. The co-operation of the post-office department has now been secured, and in cities where there are no employment agencies, the postmasters will not only furnish blanks to job-hunters, but will keep in touch with the labor situation in their various communities.

Perhaps the most important feature of the Federal plan is that in connection with proposed vocational guidance and industrial training, with the purpose of fitting young men and women as efficient wage-earners.

An added feature is that women, boy and girl applicants for positions will be furnished letters of introduction to the postmasters, who are to see that the places where workers are wanted are such as can be recommended to that helpless class of people.

Other proposed improvements are that employers shall tell the local employment bureaus when they propose discharging any of their workmen; the furnishing of information as to what particular sorts of work certain men are most capable of performing and measures to extend the period of the employment of labor without any appreciable loss either to labor or employers.

The entire object of true education is to make people not only do right things, but to enjoy right things.—John Ruskin.

CUTTING DOWN FORCES

Employment in the big munitions factories of the east is now almost 33 per cent less than it was two months ago, says Financial America. Through discharge of men already on the company payrolls, or through the cutting down of the number of men to be employed, fully 25,000 have been forced to find positions elsewhere. The largest firms have made the greatest reductions, and among these are: The Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge Company, 9,000; the Winchester Repeating Arms, 8,000, and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 10,000. In Bridgeport, New Haven and Wilmington, it is believed that these are only the first reductions and that in the autumn fully as many more men will be unemployed.

BUILDING METHODS IN ITALY

In spite of war conditions there is considerable building being carried on in Naples. Apartment houses are being erected in the Vomero, Piedegrotto, Torretto, and other sections, one of the finest being in course of erection near the center of the city on reclaimed ground. The contracts for these works, however, were all let before the European hostilities began.

Construction work in Italy is different from that in the United States, the only point of resemblance being in the use of the steel and iron girders for strengthening the floors of buildings. Window frames, doors, and shutters are all made by hand. American flooring and trimmings are used, but up to the present American builders' hardware and plumbing goods have not been able to compete.

ANCIENT DWELLINGS

When digging a trench recently soldiers in Mexico uncovered a house which is supposed to be more than 4,000 years old. Inside the ancient building were found specimens of decorated pottery in excellent condition. Authorities believe it to be the dwelling place of people who lived before the Aztecs.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

WET OR DRY

It is said of those who bathe in the Missouri River that upon drying, they brush themselves off with a whisk broom before donning their clothes. And Mark Twain says the proper way to drink a glass of river water is to stir carefully and eat with a spoon.

Water is a most important ornament of life and great care should be exercised in its use. For instance none should be wasted by allowing it to leak through your roof.

How was that?
"She inveigled the hired girl into holding the nail."

CURIOUS HABITS OF THE COCONUT

Why do coconuts have "eyes?" This, say the naturalists, is the reason: Coconuts generally grow at the edge of seas or rivers, and a good many of the nuts as they become ripe fall into the water. The nuts are covered with a thick husk, which has a waterproof covering, so that they will float. As they float, the three eyes, which are all at one end of the nut, are always on top.

Once in the water, nature goes to work. From one of the eyes there comes a shoot that sends forth broad leaves that act as sails, says the Youth's Companion. The wind catches these sails and wafts the coconut on a journey that may be many miles long. As it sails, the other two eyes sent out roots, which at first grow among the fibers of the woody husk.

In time the coconut is swept on another shore, perhaps on another island. The roots embed themselves in the soft earth, the sail becomes the trunk, and very shortly a thrifty coconut palm is growing where none grew before.

RULES FOR TENNIS-PLAYERS

1. Clothes should fit loosely and comfortably, but the shoes should be snug in fit.
2. The racket should be light and have a small handle.
3. Hold the racket by the extreme end and grip it tightly.
4. The feet should be far apart and in line with the play, the side of the body toward the net.
5. Give the arm a full, long swing and let the momentum of the racket do the work.
6. Keep your eyes everlastingly on the ball.
7. Keep away from the ball and give it plenty of room.
8. Swing the body with the play, and "follow through" after the ball with the weight.
9. Don't try to hit the ball too hard at first; it is better to be sure of not missing and learn speed a little later.—J. Parnly Paret, in St. Nicholas.

LEGAL DOCUMENT TAX ABOLISHED

COURTESY AN ASSET

Strive to keep your old trade and to add to it every person who enters your place. Remember that business is a form of service. Show an interest in every caller and endeavor to supply his needs in the most satisfactory manner possible. Give as much attention to and show as much interest in and evidence as much appreciation of a small sale as a large one. The purchaser of a spool of thread or a cake of yeast today may buy a dress or a hat or a barrel of flour on some future visit. A penny purchase in a grocery store may be the beginning of a lasting trade. The sale of today is but an item as compared with continued patronage.

THE CHARM OF CLAUDE'S PICTURES

Anyone who will look at the two pictures by Claude which hang side by side with two of Turner's in the National Gallery will see, A. C. Benson says, "that the Claudes have an incomparable charm of their own. The golden sunlight of a great summer day falls with a mellow richness on vale and promontory, where the waves lap gently in the haze-hung bays. There is a sense of meditative content about the whole. . . . The scene is full of incommunicable romance; the ruined grass-grown temples, the embattled villas, the dim figures of men and women all have a life of their own, if one could but penetrate its secrets."

SEEKING A JOB

Original methods are always helpful. Every employer is looking for boys with originality and initiative. The newspapers last year told of a young man standing on Broadway, New York, with a large placard pinned on his coat, the card bearing a notice to the effect that he was seeking a job, and giving some facts concerning his education and fitness for employment. The newspaper account had it that within a short time he had obtained a position.

FIRST CHIME OF BELLS

Philadelphia claims the credit of having had the first chime of bells in the United States. They were brought over in the Myrtilla by Captain Budden, and were purchased, it is said, in London at a cost of 560 pounds. The bells weighed 9000 pounds all told, the largest bell weighing 2040 pounds. They were hung in Christ Church.

In obtaining a job persistence is as important and valuable as in holding one. Selling one's services is, after all, a form of salesmanship, and no salesman can expect to be successful without persistence. One of the best things that any young man can cultivate is the habit of persistency.
